Employee Engagement
with Tandem, Partners in Early Learning

Engage the parents on your team while also supporting a local early learning nonprofit

During this time, many of your employees are at home with young children while balancing their work. Tandem’s workshops and virtual read alouds are a great way to engage the parents and caregivers on your team while also supporting Tandem, Partners in Early Learning.

Choose from a variety of virtual opportunities on the next page.

We ask for a contribution to support early learning programming for children and families. Contact Elizabeth Gelman to learn more and schedule an event: elizabeth@tandembayarea.org

Tandem is a Bay Area nonprofit that engages the whole community to ensure all families have the resources, skills, and confidence they need to support their children’s early brain development and kindergarten readiness.
Storytime Magic (adults and children)

In this virtual webinar, our expert program staff will lead the group in a fun and interactive book read along featuring a book from our diverse collection. This will be followed by an engaging workshop for parents/caregivers on best practices around book sharing.

Storytime Magic (children only)

In this version of Storytime Magic, only the children need to be present once it is started. It will feature our expert program staff leading the group in a fun and interactive book read. We are able to do up to two books per session.

Parent Workshops

Sharing Stories, Sharing Feelings
Learn about social emotional development and how book sharing can promote it

Supporting Diversity & Inclusion with Storybooks
Explore the importance of inclusive storybooks and learn key features to look for while building a home library

Each participant will receive a list of recommended books featuring diverse, high-quality titles from the Tandem StoryCycles collection and access to additional resources to keep the learning going at home.
